Excerpt: .breakfast, Red Crow and I rode out of camp at daylight for a day on the cliffs. On the previous day we had seen numbers of bighorn along them, and, opposite the mouth of the coulee where we had killed the buffaloes, had discovered what we thought was the entrance to a cave. We wanted to see that. We had told Mink Woman that she could not go with us, but after going down the valley for a mile or more found her close at our heels. Nor would she go back: I want to see that cave as much as you do, she said. I help you hunt, and butcher your kills; it is only fair that you do something for me now and then. It was a beautiful morning, clear, cool, windless. As we rode along we saw deer and elk dodging...
