B39 2008e OCLC Number: (OCoLC)639913592 Subject: United States -- Economic conditions -- 2001-2009. Excerpt: . . . 11 closely with the other members of the Presidents Working Group on Financial Markets, including, of course, Secretary Paulson and Chairman Bernanke, with whom it is my privilege to appear today. We have also been working closely with our international regu-latory counterparts, which is a reflection of the global impact that these U. S. market events have had. To coordinate the Commissions subprime efforts across each of our divisions and offices, Erik Sirri, who is the Director of the Divi-sion of Trading and Markets, is leading an agency-wide task force. As you know, the Commission is not a front-line regulator of the mortgage lending business, the derivatives industry, or the monoline insurance industry. But the securities markets and the market participants that the Commission does regulate - not to mention the investors whom it is our mission to protect - have been deeply affected by the problems with residential mortgage-backed securities and collateralized debt obligations. Among the questions that have been raised within our jurisdic-tion are the accounting treatment of the special purpose trusts and their assets; the adequacy of capital and liquidity at the Nations major investment banks, and the strength of their risk manage-ment practices; the impact on money market funds from the de-valuation of what had previously been presumptively safe assets; the quality of issuer disclosure by public companies involved in structured finance; the role of the credit rating agencies, over which the SEC gained regulatory jurisdiction 8 months ago; and the possibility of violations of the securities laws by subprime...
